

WILSON TALKS
WITH ENVOYSLays Mexican Problem Before
American Delegates.

ADVISES RECEPTIVE MOOD

Chief Executive Issues No Specific Instructions, but Makes It Plain Dictator Huerta Must Go and That Sound Government Must Be Established Before American Troops Are Withdrawn.

Washington, May 19.—President Wilson told the American commissioners to the mediation conference at Niagara Falls, Ont., that the United States government regards the settlement of the Mexican problem in a definite form as a prerequisite to the withdrawal of the American forces from Vera Cruz.

The president gave the American commissioners—Justice Lamar of the supreme court of the United States, Frederick W. Lehmann, former solicitor general, and Diplomatic Secretary H. Percival Dodge—no specific instructions. He told them to place themselves in a receptive mood and await proposals from the three South American mediators.

But at the same time he outlined to his representatives that peace in Mexico seems to him to be conditioned on the elimination of the Huerta administration and the establishment in its place of a strong provisional government which will conduct an election giving fair treatment to all factions and parties and guaranteeing, moreover, a solution of the land owning problem and other internal difficulties which have bred revolution in the southern republic during the past three years.

Desires Justice for All.

The president wishes the Mexican question settled on comprehensive lines that will take into account the economic principles for which Zapata in the south, as well as Carranza in the north, have been fighting and at the same time will serve the rightful interests of the people in the territory now controlled by the Huerta government.

The Huerta delegates are said to be ready to recommend Huerta's retirement, but only on the condition that a definite understanding is reached on the kind of government that is to follow.

President Wilson, in his final talk with the American commissioners, at which Secretary Bryan also was present, spoke hopefully of the mediation. He is earnestly desirous that it shall succeed and indicated that every power and legitimate influence at the disposal of the American government will be exerted to make it succeed.

Though the Constitutionalists have not agreed to take part in the mediation one high administration official held out hopes of their ultimate participation, saying a misunderstanding which might be remedied in a short time was largely responsible for their failure to be represented at Niagara Falls.

Explains Entire Problem.

The president laid before the commissioners the entire Mexican problem as he saw it, emphasizing that the duty of the United States is to seek a constitutional government which may be accorded recognition by the world because of its capacity not alone to maintain peace within its confines, but to observe international obligations.

The mediators have worked out, in a general way, a plan which they will submit to all factions. One feature of it became definitely known. It seeks to eradicate the perplexing agrarian question by prescribing a division of lands in a way that will be satisfactory to the masses, but its details have not been revealed. Economic questions, however, will not be submitted until a satisfactory agreement is reached on the political phases.

The mediation conference is expected to reach a climax in a short time. The president does not look for protracted negotiations, believing that before many days a definite idea of the concessions which General Huerta is ready to make will be obtained.

Banker Dies at His Desk.

New York, May 19.—Edward Burns, vice president of the American Exchange National bank, died at his desk. He had been connected with the bank for nearly half a century, entering its service as an office boy.

CHARGE OF BRIBERY FAILS

William Kirby, Ohio Official Under McKinley, Acquitted.

Columbus, O., May 19.—After being out ten minutes a jury in criminal court returned a verdict of not guilty in the case of William Kirby of Toledo, charged with bribing George B. Nye, former member of the legislature for Pike county.

Kirby, who was a member of the Ohio railroad commission under the administration of Governor William McKinley, was indicted on testimony given by Nye and in the trial just finished Nye was the principal witness for the state. Nye pleaded guilty some months ago to accepting a bribe but sentence was not passed on him.

BECKER DEFENSE
WILL NOW OPENDistrict Attorney Whitman Rests
in Murder Case.

DEFENDANT MAY NOT TESTIFY

Attorney for Former New York Police Lieutenant Has Not Yet Decided Whether He Will Call His Client as a Witness in His Own Behalf—Mrs. Becker Will Be One of the Witnesses.

New York, May 19.—District Attorney Whitman completed his case against Charles Becker by placing on the witness stand two men whom he considered his star witnesses—Charles B. Plitt, Jr., the former policeman's friend and press agent, and James Marshall, a negro youth, who said he saw Becker and Jack Rose talking at the Harlem conference which was declared by the court of appeals to have been the "heart of the conspiracy to murder Herman Rosenthal."

The gambler's widow and several other persons also testified before the prosecutor declared his case ended.

Plitt swore that Becker had asked him while on board a train on the way from New York to the death house at Sing Sing prison, following his conviction, to kill Jack Rose. Plitt also said Becker had made him carry messages to Jack Rose, both before Rosenthal's murder and after Rose was locked up in the Tombs, charged with having taken part in the crime.

"Stool Pigeon" for Becker.

Marshall went fully into details of his alleged operations as a "stool pigeon" for Becker.

He was placed on the stand as the "disinterested witness" to the "Harlem conference" which the court of appeals said was essential to convict Becker legally as the instigator of the plot that resulted in the killing of the gambler.

The defense will now open its case. Becker will not be the first witness. His attorney, after a conference, refused to say definitely whether he would be called later, although they assert that the former police lieutenant has demanded that he be given an opportunity to speak for himself. Mrs. Becker will go on the stand to try to save her husband from the electric chair.

After a three-hour conference with Becker in the criminal courts building Martin T. Manton, counsel for Becker, said that a defense will be offered which will prove that Becker is the victim of a gambler's plot. Witnesses will be called, he said, who will refute the testimony brought out by the prosecution relating to the alleged Harlem conference.

The first witness for the defense, he announced, will be Fred Hawley, formerly a reporter, who will testify as to Becker's whereabouts immediately after the murder of Rosenthal.

ARBITRATION IDEA GROWING

Movement to Settle Canal Tolls Controversy Amicably.

Washington, May 19.—With the canal tolls exemption controversy nearing an end the senate is growing in favor of an effort to substitute for the pending bill a resolution which would provide for the submission of the dispute between the United States and Great Britain to an international tribunal. Although senators who have discussed this proposal are by no means sure that it will prevail when the time for a vote arrives they say that many of their colleagues are willing to adopt this course.

It was said that Senator O'Gorman, leader of the forces fighting repeal, will not consent to arbitration and the proposal undoubtedly will meet with vigorous opposition among senators on both sides of the issue. It was pointed out, however, that before the house passed the repeal bill President Wilson was willing that the question should be settled by arbitration.

El Paso, Tex., May 19.—In discussing the case of T. E. Teza, an Italian agent of the Eagle Oil company at Monterey, who, it is alleged by representatives of the oil company, is being held as a hostage for payment of a forced loan of 10,000 pesos, Roberto V. Pesqueira, confidential agent of the Constitutional government, drew a parallel between the action taken by General Benjamin F. Butler, after taking New Orleans, and the loans levied by the Constitutionalists.

SKEPTICAL OVER MEDIATION

Former Senator Beveridge Criticizes Mexican Policy.

Indianapolis, May 19.—Albert J. Beveridge, former United States senator and now a candidate on the Progressive ticket for that office, severely criticized the Mexican policy of the Democratic administration at a dinner of the Indiana Progressive club here. He advocated a constructive policy by this government in the handling of the Mexican situation and asserted that recent Mexican incidents indicated that the United States had lost its place as first power of the Western hemisphere.

Mr. Beveridge declared that he could not see where mediation by the South American republics would result in peace.

"Assuming that the 'A B C mediation' settles all these things for us and that we submit," said Mr. Beveridge, "what then are the mediators to do with the hordes of professional bandits and murderers who are making Mexico a shambles?"

"Feebleness of purpose and uncertainty as to policy never yet prevented war."

MOB AT VERA CRUZ
HOOTS HUERTA AIDE

Former Minister of the Interior
Called Assassin.

Vera Cruz, May 19.—Hooted and jeered by a small mob of Mexicans and called an assassin by one who alleged that his brother had been killed by order of the former minister of the interior, Dr. Aureliano Urrutia, who held that office and was once Huerta's most trusted counselor, was arrested twice. He had arrived here a few hours earlier among the refugees from the capital.

Dr. Urrutia had fled from Mexico City to escape the wrath of the president and had the appearance of an ordinary laboring man when he disclosed his identity on board the American train this side of the gap. He was detained by the American officers and taken before Brigadier General Funston, who, however, ordered him set at liberty.

He again was taken into custody because of the demonstration made against him, but was released for the second time and sent to his room, where he is guarded by a marine, whose presence was requested by the fugitive in the belief that his life was in danger from his own people.

PAYS COLLEGE TEACHERS

Annual Report of Carnegie Foundation President.

New York, May 19.—The Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, founded by Andrew Carnegie with an endowment of $15,000,000 to provide retiring allowances for teachers and officers of high educational institutions in the United States and Canada, during its eight years of operation has distributed a total of $2,936,927, according to the annual report issued by its president, Dr. Henry S. Pritchett.

The report for the year ended Sept. 30, 1913, shows that $579,440 was distributed in retiring allowances to professors and $80,049 in pensions to their widows during that year.

The number of allowances for the year was thirty-three, making the present total of allowances now in force 403. The average annual payment to an individual is $1,703.

TOLLS SKIRMISH
A BITTER FIGHTNo Contest Like It Since Silver Purchase Clause Repeal.

LONG DEBATE NOW EXPECTED

Administration Fortunate In Getting Measure Through House Before Opposition Had Organized—Badger Gains Much Popularity By Conduct as Commander of Fleet In Mexico.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, May 19.—[Special.]—The fight for the repeal of the free tolls provision in the Panama canal act has developed into one of the greatest legislative battles that has occurred in congress since the repeal of the silver purchase clause in the Sherman law.

That contest was more bitter than the one now going on in the senate because a majority of the Democrats in the senate at that time were intensely hostile to President Cleveland and did not hesitate to express their opinions. In the present case the Democrats who are opposing President Wilson continue to extol his high purposes and do not in any way assail or question his motives.

In the silver fight the Democrats, with the silver Republican allies, openly organized and maintained a filibuster for the purpose of defeating the legislation which the president wanted. Nothing like that will be attempted in regard to the repeal bill, although it will be debated at great length.

A Fortunate Move.

It was a fortunate move for the president that he had the repeal bill taken up and passed by the house as quickly as possible. Had the house been able to delay the measure, or had the administration allowed it to be delayed, it is doubtful whether it would have had plain sailing. The opposition would have grown with delay.

Speaker Champ Clark said that if some such speech as he made the day the debate closed could have been made two weeks before and given as wide publicity as his speech, it would have had the effect of compelling an amendment to the resolution such as many members purposed. At least the speaker claims that it would have prevented the adoption of the rule which shut out all amendment.

House May Have a Chance.

It is quite possible that the amendment which has been agreed to by the senate committee on interoceanic canals will afford the house an opportunity to vote on the Clark amendment when the repeal bill is returned to that body. There will be a fine parliamentary skirmish in an effort to secure a vote which will emphatically assert American control. The longer the debate goes on in the senate the better opportunity there will be to secure an amendment in the house.

Commending Badger.

There has been general commendation of the manner in which Admiral Charles J. Badger, the commander of the Atlantic fleet and senior in Mexican waters, has conducted himself since he arrived there. Admiral Fletcher, who is his junior, had things well in hand, and Badger kept out of it, allowing Fletcher to take all the credit there was for landing the bluejackets and marines and taking the city of Vera Cruz and bringing about order and establishing American supremacy.

"Badger could have gone in and bogged the whole thing," said a man in the navy department, "just as others have done before him not only in the navy, but in the army. But instead of doing so he allowed Fletcher to handle the affairs at Vera Cruz and has extended the same courtesy to Admiral Mayo at Tampico. It is just this kind of man that gets to be as popular as Badger in the navy."

Chandler Did Not Show.

At the time of the suffrage demonstration in Washington in favor of the Bristow-Mondell amendment to the constitution many congressional suffrage advocates were called out and given credit for all they had done. Senator Bristow of Kansas and Congressman Mondell of Wyoming were the principal figures, while men from suffrage states were also in the limelight.

And through it all nobody heard anything of Chandler of New York. And yet it was Chandler who moved to report the Mondell resolution from the committee on the judiciary and who made the report. "If it had not been for Chandler," remarked one of the members of the house, "there would not have been any Mondell resolution to celebrate, and yet Chandler did not get even a little whiff of the limelight during the demonstration."

Keeping Up Prices.

Champ Clark told the house a story about how, after the Dingley bill passed, his tailor put up the prices on his clothes. After the Underwood bill passed he asked if there would be a reduction, and the tailor said there was none. "They are keeping up those old stilted prices and will continue to do so until they lose trade, just as this man lost mine," said Champ.

"The speaker ought to wear ready-made clothes, the same as I do," commented Minority Leader Mann.

WITNESS SCORED AS
PERJURER BY COURT

Judge Refuses to Call Grand Jury in Bribery Case.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 19.—In denying the request of State's Attorney O. B. Buttrick for a special grand jury to investigate the charges of bribery against Tracy R. Bangs and others in connection with the acquittal of McLain Cooper of murder Judge C. M. Cooley made a direct charge of perjury against J. A. Sullivan, bailiff in care of the Cooper jury. Sullivan made the charges of bribery and was the state's star witness.

During the hearing of Bangs, Sullivan said that at one time he received $15 from Cooley, then a law partner of Bangs. Cooley charged this statement was a "deliberate perjury." He scored Sullivan as a self-condemned man.

Judge Cooley bases his refusal to call a jury on the contention that the state law provides methods for assembling a grand jury and such law must be conformed with. The law provides for petition of 10 per cent of the legal voters.

CHARGE RIOTOUS GATHERING

Police at Eveleth, Minn., Disperse Mob of Idle Men.

Eveleth, Minn., May 19.—Five men were arrested here when the police charged a riotous gathering of idle men at the Fayal mine. The ringleaders were taken to jail, while the crowd followed hooting the police and throwing rocks. None was injured. The situation for a time was critical, but the authorities believe they have control.

A gang of men, mostly Italians, who had been laid off at the mines, paraded through the streets shouting, singing and throwing stones. The march up Adams avenue was led by a red flag and the cry "We want work" rang out in many languages.

SCHOOL OFFICIALS RESIGN

Result of Probe of Carlisle Indian Institution.

Washington, May 19.—Resignations of Moses Friedman, superintendent, and S. J. Nori, chief clerk of the Carlisle Indian school, were accepted by Cato Sells, commissioner of Indian affairs. Two persons holding minor positions at the school were transferred and another was removed.

Charges were filed several months ago against Friedman, Nori and other officials at the school and a congressional committee instituted an investigation which resulted in Friedman's suspension.

In accepting the resignations Commissioner Sells stated that action did not indicate the attitude of the bureau on any phase of the accusations. The charges investigated by the congressional committee included laxity of discipline, unjust expulsion of students and misrepresentation of the school to the public by officials of the institution.

Forests in Northern Michigan
Burning Fiercely.

MANY PERSONS ARE FLEEING

All Communication With the Affected Districts Has Been Cut Off—While No Loss of Life Is Reported It Is Known That the Damage to Property Will Prove Enormous.

Escanaba, Mich., May 19.—Two villages have been wiped out, another is reported destroyed, the residents of one being forced into the Escanaba river, thousands of dollars property damage has been caused and many persons are fleeing before the forest fires on the Northern peninsula. No casualties have been reported.

All communication with the affected districts has been destroyed and only meager reports have reached here through trainmen who have passed through the district.

At Alfred, eighteen miles north of here, the flames destroyed the village, driving the inhabitants into the Escanaba river, where they were forced to remain for a number of hours. The village of Larch, near Alfred, was destroyed. The loss at Edgar is $30,000.

All boats, rafts and anything that could float were loaded with women and children and were pushed out into the stream. Many who could not find room on the makeshift boats stood waist deep in the water, their faces pinched from the cold. All the time the smoke hung like a dense pall over the water.

The flames had been communicated to the opposite shore so that nowhere was there safety.

Lathrop May Be in Ruins.

Trainmen brought an unconfirmed message that Lathrop had been destroyed. Inhabitants are said to have fled to safety before the fire reached the town. Both are small lumber settlements. Among the property owners at Alfred are the I. Stephenson Lumber company and the Eastern and Lake Shore railway. Millions of feet of lumber have been destroyed.

The fires are supposed to have been started from a farmer's brush fire last Saturday, but little alarm was felt until the flames spread so rapidly in the undergrowth that it was impossible to check it. There has been little rain in this vicinity and all underbrush is dry. The fire mainly is in second growth timber, but several large tracts of first growth have been swept over.

A heavy rain is the only thing that can check the flames. As soon as possible food supplies and other relief will be dispatched to the sufferers. Trains arriving here showed evidence of the intensity of the flames. Glass in car windows was scorched and melted, while paint on the sides of the cars was blistered. One member of a train crew said that he counted fifteen separate fires within thirty miles of Escanaba.

BRUSH AND GRASS FIRES

Considerable Damage Done in Northern Minnesota.

Duluth, May 19.—Brush and grass fires which have been burning since Sunday afternoon have caused considerable damage south and west of here, according to reports. Large quantities of railroad timber has been destroyed, communication has been broken and in some cases trains have been halted. Carleton is the center of the worst part of the conflagration.

Telephone and telegraph poles were burned at Carleton, halting communication between Duluth and the Twin Cities. Northern Pacific trains were stalled about three miles from Carleton when a huge pile of railroad ties on the right of way caught fire, blocking the tracks.

Sunday was the last and the greatest day of the campaign. Osso was piled on Pelion. The crowds have mounted up mountain on mountain. It is a busy season on the farm but the country people were present in large numbers. Throughout the campaign the country people have made sacrifices to get to town and the good they have received has been proportionate to the sacrifice they made.

Scores of them have "gone for ward" and made a surrender of themselves to Christ. This will mean much for they going to their different homes will take with them the good news.

There has been a marked change of heart on the part of many. Mr. Lowry has had a number come to him confessing that they had first scoffed at the meetings but had come to repentance. Now they begged pardon.

The number of those openly rebellious against the meetings is but few. The number of them was legion at first. These rebellious ones have not obstructed the meetings to any great extent. It would have been better with their presence but the streams of religion are too big to be obstructed by a few pebbles.

Some mildly say at the present, "Well, I don't believe in revivals." Bless their hearts neither does the devil. When the tabernacle came the Devil came also. He wouldn't have stayed away for gold or silver. He was there and on the job as big as life. Those who were trembling in the balance were most influenced by him.

The clergymen of the city are now congratulating themselves on the great success that attended their labors. Nearly a year ago it was determined to have these meetings. It was a great and laborious task to make and perfect all arrangements. It was with fear and trepidation that many ventured to launch such a movement. They were fearful that the church people would not stand back of them.

The people of Brainerd have done themselves proud. There will be no reason to doubt them in the future. They assumed the financial obligation of the current expenses with a cheerfulness that would do credit to any people. They have not asked that expenses be cut down to the point of inefficiency. Their willingness will give cheer to the undertaking of another great work that the Christian will soon be asked to assume.

There is a broad smile on the faces of the preachers these days. It won't come off for some time yet. Their faith has been awarded. No theme in the world would have drawn such crowds of the most intelligent people of the city and country and hold them for five strenuous weeks as this religious battle cry, "Get Right with God." There is no bigger subject in the world than this, and this campaign has proved it without the slightest peradventure of doubt.

The clergy are still smiling over the fact that they were "gilded" in the choice of an evangelist. They could have run through the list of evangelists and evangelistic teams from Dan to Beersheba and could not have found more suitable men for the place than the Lowry-Moody forces.

None of the clergy knew these men personally. They were guided by recommendations, and recommendations are as a usual thing the most misleading things in the world. These men will go forth from Brainerd with the thanks and "God speed" of the clergy. They will go forth bearing the incense of the prayers of the saints of Brainerd. The clergymen, as the religious leaders of this city, will stay to carry on to its ultimate conclusion the issues of this campaign. No matter what comes they will have heart for the greater responsibility.

Their call now is for men! Men it is up to you to rally to their support! They have proved themselves competent leaders in the past they will do greater work with your unwavering aid. Let the past be past—the quest of souls is the job from henceforth. Bear every carping criticism to them not to your neighbor concerning them. The only thing they can do without you is to mark time. With you they can cut a swathe of righteousness through the enemies of the kingdom. The call is for men!

There have been many visiting clergymen present during the progress of the meetings. Rev. Lowry said he had never conducted a series where there had been more. Many of the converts are from the country and from contributory towns. It is believed that in view of this the revival fires have just been lighted. Their spread is merely a matter of time, and faithfulness.

The opposition to the meetings was not greater here than at other places. The evangelist affirms that from his experience a saloon town like this is more difficult than a dry city. The greater opposition has however not come from the saloon forces of Brainerd. Their objection is based on their financial existence and has no personal malice in it. A more subtle unfriendliness came from those who are generally credited with having intelligence.

It is over now. The future holds in its hand the issues of this great campaign. The tabernacle will soon be torn down. The crowds have ceased to turn their steps thither. It is now a matter of history. There is greater work in store for all than disliking one another. The united churches have proven that there is still life left in them. No other agency in the city could have handled a bigger proposition and brought it through with as little friction or dissension as the churches have done.

It has cost some, it is true. We never yet accomplished anything without paying for it. What it cost is small compared to the amount of money spent each month in the saloons. The moving picture houses would have to close their doors if they did not receive more than that each month.

The clergy with their helpers among the laymen counted the cost before preparing for the skirmish and their estimate was correct. Not a penny was wasted. $2500 will cover all the expenses of the entire movement. It was cheap. No money has been spent to greater advantage in this city since the writer has been here.

Sunday Evening Service

The people who assembled in the tabernacle Sunday evening for the closing service were in an expectant mood. Many have learned to have delight in the nightly services. The thrill of the music, and the fellowship of the crowd has delighted them.

People have learned to talk religion. You can hear it on the streets, and down in the shops. The bricklayer talks about his soul as he lays the brick in the mortar. The carpenter withholds his saw to say a word about the sacrificial work of Christ. The revival has just begun!

Mr. Moody opened the meeting with songs and prayer. The songs that have been popularized are many, among them is "The Way of the Cross, Leads Home"; "Raise Me Jesus to Thy Bosom"; "His Love for Me"; "Someone's Last Call"; "Ashamed of Jesus"; and "When We All Get to Heaven."

Mr. Moody thanked those who had been faithful in the music. He made special mention of the pianists; Miss Bertha Strickler, Miss Jennie Wilson, Mrs. R. E. Cody and Mrs. W. A. M. Johnstone. Also the soloists; Mrs. Nels Johnson, Miss Anna Michaelson, Mr. Small and Mr. Jarquay. He said that there would be no note of music in hell. If you ever hear any music aside from the dreary wailing of the lost you will have to prepare now to go to heaven.

In the morning Dr. Joseph Nicholson had charge of raising the money for Rev. Lowry; in the afternoon at the men's meeting Rev. W. J. Lowrie took charge; in the woman's meeting Mrs. W. J. Lowrie, and Rev. E. E. Saterlee in the evening.

When Mr. Lowry came in for his part in the evening he was given the Chautauqua salute.

He spoke of the work done by the pastors in a most appreciative way. He said "Brainerd ought to be proud of its clergymen. I do not know when I have met a more consecrated band than the clergymen of Brainerd."

The publishers of the Dispatch and Journal-Press were thanked for devoting so much space to the announcements and "write-ups."

Thanks were offered to Mr. and Mrs. Angel; Mr. and Mrs. Sheets; Mr. and Mrs. Starritt. A tender allusion was made to Mrs. Williams, a member of the chorus, who died Saturday afternoon. A beautiful wreath was placed upon her vacant chair.

At the conclusion of the service many came to the front and bade good-bye to the Evangelist and his party. There was quite a crowd at the depot Monday afternoon to see him away.

Tonight there will be a convert's rally at the tabernacle. Everybody is invited. This is counted upon as being one of the best meetings of the series.

The churches will resume their regular services next Sabbath. Prayer meetings will be held on Thursday night. There will be reception of members this coming Sabbath in many of the churches. Converts and all those wishing to enquire more closely concerning the work of the church are asked to be present at the different prayer meetings Thursday night.

The various pastors will be exceedingly busy during the next few weeks. Each one can help them by going to them and not demanding that they come to you.

Concerning the Party

Rev. Oscar Lowry left Brainerd Monday afternoon at 1:25 o'clock for Minneapolis. He spent Monday night with an old friend, Rev. E. E. Day. Tuesday night he will give a temperance address at Shakopee. From there he will go immediately to his home in Cedar Falls, Iowa.

Mr. Lowry expects to spend most of his vacation studying and preparing for the next year's campaign. His schedule is arranged for up till April, 1915. His next meeting will be at Ellensburg, Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Moody left on the 1:50 train, Monday, for Anaconda, where they will spend their vacation. Mr. Frank Hieber is also going to Anaconda. Mr. Hieber was converted in that city some four years ago in a religious campaign conducted by the Lowry-Moody evangelistic party.

Miss Lillian Jones will return to the Moody Bible Institute in Chicago. She will remain there a short time preparatory to taking up religious work in Wisconsin.

Mr. Clarence J. Martin expects to hold two weeks of revival meetings at Pillager for the Rev. Schenk, of Motley.

Mr. and Mrs. Moody have been with Evangelist Lowry for eight years in evangelistic work. They have conducted many decisive campaigns together.

Mr. Lowry has held meetings in many different states among them being Minnesota, Montana, Idaho, Washington, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado, Iowa, Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana, Ohio, and Michigan.

The evangelist was born and brought up in a farm near Cypress, Johnson County, Illinois. He left the farm at the age of seventeen. For nearly six years he served as a telegraph operator for the C. R. I. & P. R. R. He was pastor of churches in Terre Haute, Indianapolis and Fairmont, Indiana.

This season closes his twelfth year of evangelistic labor.

Sunday Morning Sermon

Speaking to the new converts, Mr. Lowry took for his text II Peter 3:18 "But grow in grace and in the knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ."

"My message to you this morning is 'Growing in Grace.' The Christian life is a growth. We do not grow into grace, but we are to grow in grace. We are born into the kingdom of Christ through faith. Then there begins a growth. Again we are commanded to work out our salvation with fear and trembling. Not that we are to work for salvation, but we are to work it out after we have received it, having laid the foundation which is Jesus Christ in the heart. We are commanded of God to grow in grace, because God is never satisfied with anything short of our very best. We are satisfied with the green apple in the early summer time, because it represents the best the trees and the season could do up to date. But if we came in the fall and found the apple still green, we would certainly be dissatisfied. A man is satisfied with his baby at birth if he is strong and healthy as he gazes fondly upon it, but to come home six months later and find it in the same condition would be anything but satisfactory. God is satisfied with you now, converts, the moment that you surrender yourself to Him, but if He finds you six months or a year from now, as you are at present he certainly would not be satisfied. And in speaking words of counsel to you this morning I trust I may be able to give you some suggestions which, if you follow them out, you will be found growing in grace.

"First of all, I would say, 'Trust only in Jesus Christ for salvation and be sure that you are saved.' I Cor. 3:11, 'For other foundation can no man lay than that which is laid in Jesus Christ.' It is the privilege of every believer to know that they are saved. I John 5:13 'These things have I written unto you that believe on the name of the Son of God that ye may know that ye have eternal life.' There are many who do not have assurance of salvation because they do not fully trust in Jesus Christ to save them, but are trusting in their own righteousness or rather what they do. So many, if you ask them if they are saved, will say, 'If I live good enough I will be saved.' Now we are saved through faith in Jesus Christ and we work because we are saved and not with the hopes that we will be saved thereby. The believer is justified at the moment he accepts Christ as his Saviour. Acts 13:39, 'For by Him all that believe are justified by the law of Moses.' I was justified from all things the moment that I believed on Jesus Christ, and though I have been living a Christian life for many years and doing what I can to win others to Jesus I am not more justified today than when I first accepted Him as my Saviour. I was saved then, through faith in Jesus, but I trust that there has been a considerable growth in grace in the meantime.

Next, confess Jesus Christ every opportunity you have. Matthew, 10:32 'Whoever shall confess Me before men I will confess also before My Father which is in heaven.' Always avail yourself of every opportunity to confess Jesus as your Lord. Too many are like the convert who, being asked how he was getting along in his new life, replied: 'Oh, first rate. Nobody at the shop even suspects that I am a Christian.' The world would not be very long in suspecting the real Christian. It is impossible that we should be true Christians and others not find out. Dr. J. Campbell Morgan some time ago met a young man who told him that he had worked side by side with another young man in the factory and in the five years neither of them had found out that the other was a professing Christian, and, as he told Mr. Morgan he said, 'Wasn't that funny?'

'Funny,' said Mr. Morgan, 'Go and get the other man, and let us get on our knees before God. You have never been born of the Spirit.' One of the first evidences of conversion is a desire to win others to Christ and this can be accomplished only as we confess Him. I John 3:14, 'We know that we have passed out of death into life because we love the brethren.'

'Let every one of you now, converts join the church the very first opportunity that is given you. Acts 2:47, 'And the Lord added to the church day by day those that were being saved.' I would not expect to hear anything very good of you if I should hear that you had refused to unite with the church. Just like doing Christian work, we unite ourselves with the church because we are saved. After our conversion then, of course, we desire to associate with those who are Christians. The only thing that represents Jesus Christ in this world is the churches. You and I would have, never heard of Jesus Christ or the Bible and certainly no true Christian would refuse to identify himself with that which represents Jesus Christ on earth. Make it a habit of life to read God's word every day. Acts 17:11 'These were more noble than those in Thessalonica in that they received the word with all readiness of mind and searched the Scriptures daily.' Peter said in his first epistle, 'As new-born babes desire the sincere milk of the word that ye may grow thereby.' (I Pet. 2:2).

I have never heard of a Christian growing in grace who neglected the reading of God's word. Neither do I think it possible for one to be kept out of sin and worldliness very long who does not read and study God's word. The Bible is different from any other book on earth. Matt. 4:4 'Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.' The word of God is to the spiritual man what bread is to the body. You could not expect to grow physically without food, neither can you hope to grow spiritually without the Bible.

"Not only read the Bible but memorize it. Ps. 119: 'Thy word have I hid in my heart, that I might not sin against thee.' One of the greatest mistakes I made when I first became a Christian was I neglected to read and memorize God's truth. I count second to but one blessing in my life, and that my conversion, the blessing that came to me when I began to memorize God's word. Then it is a splendid plan in reading the Bible devotionally to read it upon your knees, praying the prayer of the Psalmist. Ps. 119:18, 'Open thou mine eyes that I may behold wondrous things out of thy law.' I endeavor to make it a rule without reading a portion of God's word upon my knees, praying before each chapter the Psalmist's prayer. Then I would suggest that you begin every day and close every day with prayer. Isa 40:31 'But they that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run and not be weary; they shall walk and not faint.' Paul said in I Thes. 5:17, 'Pray without ceasing.' Make it a habit of life to pray about your work, about your business, about your home duties. God is interested in every detail of our lives. When you find that you have done anything wrong confess it instantly to God. I John 1:19, 'If we confess our sins, He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness,' and when you have confessed a sin to Him, don't be confessing it again. God says that if we confess our sins that He does forgive us. So do not dishonor His word and make Him a liar by coming back and confessing a sin over and over again. If my boy comes acknowledging some act of disobedience or wrong done, and asks me to forgive him, and I tell him I do so, suppose he comes back in a week and confesses this thing the second time, and asks me to again forgive him. He is then dishonoring me, and the same thing is true when we come confessing our sin to God. We are to believe there and then that He has forgiven us, arising from our knees and go forth rejoicing in the fact that He has forgiven us.

"After you have united with the church, engage definitely in some Christian work. A little boy was once asked why he fell out of bed. 'Because, I suppose I went to sleep too near the place I got in.' That is just the reason that many fall out of the church. They go to sleep too near the place they get in. They do not engage definitely in Christian work. Don't be a drone in the house of God. Take a Sunday school class. Oh, you say, all the classes have teachers already. Well then get out and work up a class of your own. There are plenty of boys and girls in every town and community that could be gotten into Sunday school if someone would show enough interest in them to go and personally invite them, and should you go at it in that spirit you would soon have one of the largest and best Sunday school classes in the church. There are opportunities for Christians work everywhere. And there is always a shortage of those who are willing to do it.

"Now converts go into the church determined to pay your part. Don't be a pauper in the house of God. I am a firm believer in tithing, and I find that thousands of others of God's people have found this a most blessed way to gauge their Christian giving. Lev. 27:30-32, 'All the tithe of the land or the fruit of the tree, is the Lord's. It is holy unto the Lord. And all the tithes of the herd or the flock, whatever passeth under the rod, the tenth shall be holy unto the Lord.'

"Do not cheapen your service for Christ by having anything whatever to do with socials, fairs, bazaars, and what not; that are used as a means of raising money for the church. The whole thing is of the devil, as has been shown in the past history of the money-making idea in our church. Have your socials, but make them free to everyone. There is not one line of scripture in the Bible that will support the different schemes that many of the churches are using to raise their finances.

I have called attention to a number of things for you to do. Now I wish to call attention to some things for you not to do. First, do not permit known or wilful sin in your life. Often we see those who make a bright star in the Christian life, but soon drop back. In the majority of cases, if we could get to the root of the matter, we would find that they had gone back because they had refused to surrender some known sin. I have talked to hundreds who have made a start in Christian life and have turned back, and without exception, so far as I have been able to learn, they all acknowledged that it was because they did not make a full surrender of themselves to the Lord Jesus Christ. Do not permit anything in your life about which you are doubtful. 'Whatever is not of faith is sin' (Rom. 14:23). When there comes into your life a question of right and wrong in regard to certain action, you are to give God the benefit of the doubt. If you are doubtful and still continue to act as though it were right, as long as you are doubtful concerning the matter you are sinning, because the action is not of faith. Scores of young believers if they could only see and believe that they would be saved from asking many questions. They ask, 'Is it right for me to go here and there?' Turn and ask the question, 'What do you think about it?' 'Well, I don't know.' Then it is wrong. That moment that you are doubtful about a certain course of action, your solemn duty is to cease that action. In the doing of that doubtful thing there is actual sin against God. Then remember that there are sins of omission as well as sins of commission. James 4:17, 'Therefore to him that knoweth to do good and doeth it not, to him it is sin.' When the Lord points out some new duty, don't say, 'I can't do that,' but rather say with Paul in Phil. 4:12 'I can do all things through Christ, which strengtheneth me.' In fact, I wish every new convert might take this as their 'year text' for 1914.

There will, of course, be many new obligations and responsibilities coming to you, but remember that 'His grace is sufficient.'

"Don't do anything which you cannot do to the glory of God. 1 Cor. 10:31. 'Whether therefore ye eat or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God.' That is the one question that should enter into all of our actions as Christians. Can I do this or that and at the same time glorify God. Then don't go anywhere you cannot take Jesus with you. I think a Christian can go anywhere, said a young woman, who was defending her continued attendance at some very doubtful places of amusement. Certainly she can, but I am reminded of a little incident which happened some time ago, when a party of friends went to explore a coal mine. One of the young women presented herself dressed in a dainty white gown. When her friends remonstrated with her, she appealed to the miner who was to act as guide for the party. 'Can't I wear a white dress down in the mine?' she asked petulantly. Yes ma'am, returned the old man. There is nothing to keep you from wearing a white frock down there, but there is considerable to keep you from wearing one back. There is nothing to prevent a Christian wearing his white garments into worldliness and sin, but be sure when you come back they will be spotted with sin.

Don't desecrate the Christian Sabbath, or the Lord's day. Keep that one day sacred for worship and service. I never saw a professing Christian who was growing in grace who continued to desecrate the Sabbath. God has asked that that day be kept sacred unto himself. Never compromise yourself by becoming a patron of Sunday baseball. It is one of the greatest curses in our country today, and is driving literally hundreds of thousands of souls to hell by leading them to neglect God's house. What a shame that the Lord's day should be turned into a day of business or pleasure in so many communities. Any town or city that permits such things will suffer for it sooner or later. God says 'Righteousness exalteth a Nation,' and what is true of a nation is just as true of the individual community. You want a bigger and better city; then see to it that the laws of God are not violated, for as he says again: "Except the Lord build the house they labor in vain that build it."

Finally, don't do anything that you would not like to be found doing when Jesus Christ comes back again, for this we know that He is coming in somebody's day. It may be in your day and mine, and it may not. Matt. 24:44. "Therefore be ye also ready, for in such an hour as ye think not the Son of Man cometh." There is scarcely a greater restraining influence that can be placed over us than the thought of the second coming of Christ, when once it takes hold upon our lives. Two business men were walking down a street in New York City. Presently they came in front of a large theater. One said to the other, 'Come in and see the play to-night, there is to be something grand.' 'No,' said the other, 'I cannot. My Lord might come before the play is over and I don't want Him to come and find me in a place like that.' I want to live in that way that I will wish I had lived when Jesus Christ comes. 'Watch ye therefore for ye know not the day nor the hour when the Son of Man cometh.'

This Work Will Abide

The Evangelists have come and gone, and soon the big tabernacle on South Sixth street with all its sacred associations will be but a memory; but a retrospect furnishes much food for reflection. It was the greatest campaign of its kind Brainerd has ever seen and it will be many months before anything like it will again be attempted. To have had the privilege of knowing these people and being associated with them in this great revival, I prize as one of the choicest privileges of my life.

Mr. Lowry is a most convincing preacher. He is afraid of nothing and of no one. He tears the mask off from sin wherever it is hidden and shows it up in its true light. Yet withal, his manner is winning, and only those who have heard and have been unwilling to forsake their sins, and those who have never heard because of prejudice, are his critics as he leaves the city. His instructions to penitents are so simple that the child of seven or eight years understands him as readily as those who are more mature, and the hearing of these instructions over and over again has confirmed many an old time Christian in his faith.

Mr. and Mrs. Moody have made many friends. The members of the chorus will never forget the genial kindly face of the leader, and his prayers before the chorus have given to many a new meaning to the gift of song. Mr. Moody is a leader of rare capabilities. It is seldom one finds one combining the ability to sing with all the earnestness of a preacher who feels his message to be from God, and for the special purpose of winning men, and the art of leading others to sing after the same fashion. To sing under the leadership of George Moody through such a series of meetings is a liberal education in music on its practical side. Enough cannot be said of the faithfulness of the members of the chorus; nor of the pianists who were so faithfully in their places at practically every service that substitutes were unnecessary.

Mrs. Moody very greatly endeared herself to the high school girls and young women. Surely this good woman's work is a real boon to any mother who is anxious for her daughter's instruction against the pitfalls of this age. Her addresses to the women were of the highest order, and through them many a woman in Brainerd has come to a new conception of her place in society and in the church.

Mr. Martin has been with us the longest of all, and we have grown to love him for his genuineness and real worth as a man. His was the detail work. He helped to work out all the preliminary plans, and every man on the committee came to have high regard for his judgment. As a singer of songs that touch the heart and as a leader of street and shop meetings, Mr. Martin especially endeared himself to the men of the city. As a cartoonist he wielded his chalk not only to the creation of interest in what might otherwise seem a common-place subject, but also to the pointed putting of truth to every man who read his black-board signs.

Miss Jones and Mr. Heiber have been with the party here for the first time. Many homes will be brighter because Miss Jones called, and many a young man will be a stronger Christian because Frank Heiber led him in the early days of his Christian life into the practice of public prayer.

Will this work abide? Yes. Such work can never be lost. Maybe not all who were converted will remain faithful but the great majority will. And alone for the new vision that has come to the people in all the churches the meetings were well worth while. Brainerd will never again be quite the same. There will be men who will live for years with a new hope in their breasts and who will die saints of God who would have lived along in the same old groove of sin to the end had not Oscar Lowry and party come to Brainerd. May God speed them.

Brainerd's Greatest Event

The visit of the Lowry-Moody evangelistic party to Brainerd has, in my opinion, been one of the greatest events we have ever had to help bring about a better Brainerd. We need better streets and more industries but far above these we need moral integrity and Christian principles. Good Christian homes are the greatest asset our city can have. I believe these meetings with the fearless, searching, scriptural preaching of Evangelist Lowry have done more to arouse deep religious convictions and to give moral stamina than any movement we have ever had.

Every member of this party has my hearty endorsement. Prof. Moody's work with the chorus has been a marvel. Mrs. Moody's influence particularly with young women has been of inestimable value. Scores of homes have been changed for the better and thousands of individual lives have been blessed. From all the towns around and through the country within a radius of ten or twelve miles people have come to these meetings and then gone home to live a new life under the dominating Spirit of Jesus Christ.

The people of our churches have been wonderfully helped and have formed a new standard for Christian service. My church has been greatly blessed and will work with a new zeal under the inspiration gained in these meetings. My own spiritual life has been greatly enriched and my future ministry must be more fruitful because I have entered into this evangelistic campaign. For years to come the churches and people of Brainerd will have cause to thank God that Oscar Lowry and his party ever came to our city.

REV. R. E. CODY,

Pastor First Baptist Church.

Great Joy in the City

The Bible speaks of a man by the name of Philip who went to the city of Samaria and preached Christ unto the people. They gave heed to the message and the report of the revival is that there was great joy in that city.

The city of Brainerd has been visited by a wonderful man of God, Rev. Oscar Lowry, the successful evangelist. We have found him to be even more than an evangelist; he is a mighty preacher, a true prophet, a thorough Bible teacher, successful soul-winner, sympathetic friend, loving brother, earnest Christian. Brainerd has had a great five-weeks' revival campaign. Messages of truth and power have been delivered day and night. God has used this messenger of His in a mighty way. Great audiences have listened to the powerful sermons that have been spoken by this fearless preacher of the gospel, accepted Christ and surrendered their lives to Him.

It can truly be said that today there is great joy and much joy in Brainerd; joy of the abiding kind, that which shall remain. Hundreds of homes have been made happy; many hundreds of lives have been made to really rejoice; the churches have been blessed and strengthened; the whole city has felt the impulse of this great campaign; Brainerd is a better Brainerd today because the lives of any of her men and women, boys and girls have been made better, stronger and happier.

I cannot speak too highly of Evangelist Lowry; I thank God for sending him to Brainerd. He shall long, yea, always, be remembered in Brainerd for his work, his earnest and powerful messages, his mighty influence for good, his winning of souls and for what he is in himself. May God richly bless him in his future work of trying to make it easier for men to do right and harder for men to do wrong.

Mr. Lowry has had an able, efficient and consecrated band of assistants with him. Prof. George Moody has won his way into the hearts of the people. He is an able choir director and as a soloist he is gladly heard. God has used him and his music in this revival for much good.

Mrs. George Moody is a power for good, she surely has made many friends in Brainerd. Her addresses to the high school girls and to the ladies of Brainerd have done and will do much good.

Miss Lillian Jones has proven herself a true and earnest worker; her influence for good in this campaign will long be felt.

Mr. Clarence Martin I would like to call one of God's minute men; ever ready and ever willing serve; always busy, working hard, never complaining, always happy, a true and an earnest Christian man.

We thank God for the whole evangelistic party. We are sorry to see these men and women leave Brainerd but our prayer and interest shall follow them in the future. God bless them!

A. B. COLVIN,
Pastor Swedish Baptist church.

People Need the Gospel

The evangelistic campaign just closed was one of great success in every way. Evangelist Lowry and party have stirred this city from center to circumference. Mr. Lowry is a forceful speaker and a great theologian, he is orthodox and is very careful to have the Bible back up every statement he says. The leaves of the so-called New Theology has had no effect on him. He preaches Heaven but also Hell. He speaks of an eternal life and joy of the Christian but also teaches eternal damnation. The forty or fifty Bible passages which he quotes from memory in every sermon helps more than anything else to bring home the truth. Men filled with prejudice and their jaws set to defy God's word, came out of curiosity to the tabernacle, they were convicted of their sin and surrendered themselves to the Lord.

It has again been proven that the good old gospel of Jesus Christ when preached in its simplicity is what the people need and want, otherwise the large tabernacle which holds about 2,500 people would not have been filled night after night for five long weeks and many hundreds of souls brought to the Lord.

Prof. Moody is a great chorus leader. A great many singers know how to sing, but do not know how to make others sing. Mr. Moody does both. The chorus choir of about 200 voices was a great attraction. Many came to hear the music and singing, would then also stay for the sermon and were converted. The other workers in the party all did good work. Mrs. Moody is an expert in her line to conduct the meetings for women only, she certainly is not afraid to tell them what is in her mind. She proved especially a great blessing to the high school girls, as well as to the rest of the ladies who attended the meetings for women only.

It would not be fair not to mention the assistant evangelist, Mr. C. J. Martin. Mr. Lowry could not have selected a better man than Mr. Martin for that particular work. To superintend the building of the tabernacle, to advertise the meetings, conduct street and shop meetings and the thousand other things that need attention in a meeting like this, surely Mr. Martin has worked hard to make this campaign a success.

Brainerd will be a bigger and better city because of the revival meetings held here.

It is true many condemned the meetings, the evangelist and his party, but they belong to the following classes:

Those that never went near the meetings and never heard the evangelist. It seems that they knew or thought that they knew more about it than those who attended every night.

Those that went a few times were convicted of their sins but were not willing to give them up. They of course, were insulted because of the very plain language that the evangelist used, they went away from the tabernacle gnashing their teeth.

Those that were afraid that they might suffer in their business or their popularity as leaders in the ball-room or card parties, they were invisible at the meeting but were very strong in their condemnation to those on the outside.

All of the churches that went into this campaign heart and soul, are very much pleased with the result. The best wishes of the Brainerd people who love God and righteousness will go with Mr. Lowry and party to wherever they may go and work for the salvation of souls.

A. ZABEL.

Administered the Needed Jar

The evangelist and his party have come and gone and the 'jar' looked for has been administered. That it was well administered no one will deny. The first Sabbath night of the series separated sheep from goats.

It was quickly and efficiently done. From that time on many "shied clear" of the branding. Some after honest reflection returned later and came to enjoy to the full the great work.

That Brainerd was in need of a "jar" a blind man could see with his eyes shut. The torpor and insensibility of the majority of the people to religious impression was distressing and disheartening. Stupified by intemperate indulgence in the vanities and cares some did not "so much as know there is any Holy Spirit," and cares less.

A man with a javelin was needed and a man with a javelin came. Those who believe in God's providences believe that just the right man was sent to this city. It does not seem possible that any other could have done more than this man has done.

Radical! Of course he was radical. Nothing less would have done. A bucket of white wash and a can of varnish would have only covered the dark spots. The javelin revealed the things that stand in the way of successful and efficient church work in this city. Sweet oils and perfumes won't do the work of the surgical knife.

The Lord himself was decidedly radical more so than His disciples have been since. He said, "If a man come to me, and hate not his father and mother, yea and his own life also, he is not worthy of me." Radicalism, sure enough. The same Lord had a choice stock of terms that He used, "Ye fools, and blind;" "Ye blind guides;" "Ye serpents, ye generation of vipers;" "Ye kill and crucify, ye scourge." These are not mining words. They are invectives pure and simple.

The only person who has accomplished enough in the world to have his name in print six months after he is dead is the radical man. The broad tolerant man will drift through the world but he will accomplish nothing.

The man who does not believe decisively will never act decisively. "A double minded man is unstable in all his ways."

Lowry hit hard but he hit fair. The man who is willing to learn either by rebuke or exhortation got a blessing from the meetings that the years will not diminish. Those who hate to have any word spoken concerning their irregularities will continue to sputter at the very mention of the evangelist's name.

The sincerity of the evangelist is apparent to any one who has eyes to see. It is written in his face and voices itself in his words. He came to Brainerd with fair and open mind. He spoke on the great doctrines of the scriptures. His words were substantiated by frequent quotation from the Bible. Whenever he spoke upon popular amusements he corroborated his words by the testimony of eminent men. That the so-called questionable amusements have almost sounded the death knell of the spiritual life of the church is a matter of anyone's observation.

The pastors and leaders of the various churches had grown feeble in their effort to bear the burden of the church. There was a general chorus of "No, not I" when anything was asked to be done that involved responsibility. The religious leaders now have a right to demand that "faith be shown by works."

People who have been pulling the wool over the eyes of the very elect, saying "O I would so like to come but I am not able," these were seen first and oftenest at the tabernacle. It was beautiful to see them present there and it will be a pleasant sight to see them in the churches afterwards. The day of any old sham excuse is past. It is fish or cut bait. The churches have decided to quit excusing themselves for excusing others.

The evangelist covered nearly every phase of church life. He began at the pulpit and ended at the man who hides behind some hat in the back pew. The preachers took their medicine like men. They swallowed and strangled not, and they are better men for it. The call of this campaign has been a call to prayer, a call to personal work, and a call to separation.

The Christian people among the church members have shown a remarkable adaptability in personal work. The injunction "exhort one another daily" will never again fall upon deaf ears. The lines are now drawn, the battle begins anew but the Christian people know better how to use the forces they have at their command.

The days of the old, black tabernacle are numbered but the work done beneath its rude roof will extend beyond the years of eternity.

Rev. Lowry showed great skill in the choice of his helpers. Mr. Clarence Martin, the assistant evangelist, is peculiarly adapted to the work he has to do. Always busy and patient and always skillful in his part he deserves appreciation for his more inconspicuous service.

Mr. and Mrs. Moody need a separate chapter to herald their worth. The success of the campaign hinged much upon their work.

The writer expresses his grateful appreciation to all whose faithfulness was observed throughout the campaign. Players and singers, ushers and committee, pastors and people all had a great part in the work that has been done. The work that yet remains will demand our utmost efforts. "Let us be confident of this very thing that He that hath begun a good work in you will perform it unto the day of Jesus Christ."

REV. W. J. LOWRIE.

As it Looks in History

Brainerd has made good. This time she made good from a spiritual standpoint, the evidence of which has been manifested in the recent great revival campaign just closed.

Every city grows along three distinct lines, viz, physical, mental and spiritual. No one would question the rapid strides that Brainerd has made from a physical standpoint. Men of capital look apace at our prosperous city. They show their faith in her future by the way they spend their money here and the confidence they have in her resources.

From a mental standpoint, she has taken her place foremost amongst the cities of the State in education. Her school system is of the highest type. The standard of education is the best. She bids the educational forces to come to her gates because she wishes to sit at their feet to learn.

Spiritually, Brainerd leaped into prominence during the last five weeks. On the beautiful Easter day the revival campaign was inaugurated. The people within her confines arose to live again. The children, boys and girls, and men and women, sing praises to God on high for the regeneration of their beautiful city.

This great movement was initiated within the chambers of the Ministerial association. The Ministerial association composed of the pastors of the various churches saw that the time was ripe for a great religious awakening. After due consideration they called Evangelist Oscar Lowry of Cedar Falls, Iowa as their leader in this great revival campaign. This splendid man of God accepted the call to become the leader of the religious forces of Brainerd. He at once set to work in a business like manner the pastors and laymen to organize an executive committee to take charge of the affairs. This organization, the executive committee, was set to work to execute the plans laid down by Evangelist Lowry three months prior to his coming. The work was carried out by the committees. The committees were as follows: The Guarantee Fund committee composed of the pastors. The purpose of this committee was to guarantee to those who would be financially interested in the enterprise that they would be properly secured. For instance: lumber, inurance and printing. The amount guaranteed was $1500. Number two, the Building committee had charge of the erection of the tabernacle, lighting, heating and seating. Third, the Music committee was for the purpose of organizing a chorus of 250 voices before the arrival of Mr. Moody who was chorus leader. The Entertainment committee had charge of the entertainment of Evangelist Lowry and his party. Fifth, the Finance committee had immediate charge of the finances upon the arrival of the evangelist and during the campaign.

Two weeks before the campaign Mr. Clarence Martin arrived upon the field and under his leadership a religious census was taken and the finishing touches were given to the tabernacle. All this work was carried out before the arrival of Evangelist Lowry.

On Easter day, the Evangelist and his party arrived upon the scene. From that day on, Evangelist Lowry the master of oratory poured forth in eloquence the truths of a living God, and proclaiming Christ the Saviour of the world. Devoted and consecrated to his calling, he unceasingly and untiringly labored with the people to line up for God.

Today when we review the work done by Mr. Lowry, we find that the campaign has been conducted on strictly business-like methods and that all his plans have been executed to the smallest detail. The business men of the city admire the splendid business manager in which he carried on his work. The people of Brainerd are glad that Mr. Lowry "came, saw and conquered." The business interests of the city have been imbued with business honesty. The masses of people have been influenced for good. In many a home in the city "Home, Sweet Home" rings forth with a sweeter melody than ever before. By the hundreds, men and women have turned their faces Heavenward. The beautiful city of Brainerd has risen to her dignity. Her people are happy and prosperous and sing praises to God on high.

DR. JOSEPH NICHOLSON,
President Executive Committee.

The Revival and the Bible School

In these days when most protestant churches are receiving 85 percent of their membership through the Bible school this auxiliary of the church is, as a logical consequence, becoming a most potent factor.

The true aim of the Bible school is not only to teach the text but to so present the teaching of the Word that the scholar will accept the Bible standard as the living rule of his life. However, no matter how faithfully this may be presented there comes a time in every life when a definite decision must be made if he accepts the "New Testament standard of living."

The revival then, brings the Bible school scholar to a decision as to whether he will accept the Word he has studied as the rule for the conduct of his life. If he does the result is obvious, if then since so many of the Bible school scholars have made this definite decision the results should not only be much larger schools but much more efficient schools as well. This decision will be the result for the Bible schools have grown largely during the last several years in Brainerd and this movement will result, most naturally, in yet larger and better schools.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

At the Columbia

Of course Mary Pickford made a great hit at the Columbia last night. She returns next week in "Tess of the Storm Country" said to be the most beautiful picture ever made. Tonight the Columbia presents a five reel Western drama, "The Return of Col. Clausen." This film will hold those who enjoy Western atmosphere. On Friday James O'Neil comes in "The Count of Monte Cristo."

At the Grand

"The Heart's Highway," was the two-reel drama played at the Grand last night. The strong feature will be seen again tonight. This story is laid in France and you will see the love of a young man of title and a poor girl. He gives up wealth and position for the love of this country girl. To the end your interest will be held.

For tomorrow we have "Snow White," a three reel fairy story. Everybody has read Grimm's Fairy Tales. This is a story the children will understand. Popular prices—5 and 10 cents.

WILD ANIMAL CIRCUS

General Contracting Agent Murray A. Pennock of Barnes Circus in Town

General contracting agent Murray A. Pennock, of the Al G. Barnes Wild Animal circus, is here today arranging for the appearance of the Barnes show in Brainerd on Monday, June 8th.

"Wherein does the wild animal circus differ from the old-time regulation circus," was asked?

"The Barnes circus is different because the entire entertainment offered is given by trained animals—largely wild animals," replied Mr. Pennock.

"Al G. Barnes, the wild animal training wizard and proprietor of the Barnes shows, was the originator of the wild animal circus, launching the innovation nine years ago. That the new amusement idea met with approval from the public is attested by the fact his circus now ranks as the largest animal show in the world.

"For thirty-five years Mr. Barnes has been a trainer of wild animals, and early in his career decided that the public would welcome an exclusive, clean, wholesome entertainment given by educated animals, and to that purpose he bent his efforts. Every one of the 600 animals now with this great show, has been trained under his personal supervision—the greatest number ever assembled in one collection.

REMAINS IN BRAINERD

Rev. A. Zabel, Attending Evangelical Conference, Returned to Brainerd Charge

Rev. A. Zabel remains in Brainerd another year. At the Evangelical conference in St. Paul, Rev. A. Zabel was returned to the Brainerd charge for another year.

A Pequot mission was formed and Rev. G. P. Herbold was assigned to that mission, so that Rev. Zabel will spend his entire time here in Brainerd, where the church has so increased that it will be necessary to enlarge the building this year.

Rev. G. P. Herbold was a successful pastor at Deer Creek and will remove to his Pequot charge this week.

PARK THEATRE HAS MAY DAY OPENING

Theatre Beautifully Remodeled and Decorated by New Lessee, F. E.
Nemec of St. Cloud

E. A. ADAMS RESIDENT MANAGER

C. A. Russell Spoke in Place of Governor A. O. Eberhart, Introduced by W. A. Fleming

Monday night was the gala May day opening of the remodeled Park Theatre, christened the "Peoples' Playhouse" by its lessee, F. E. Nemec, of St. Cloud and its resident manager, E. A. Adams.

Patrons of the theatre last evening were surprised to see the handsome decorations which have transformed the house into a theatre beautiful. Walls and ceiling had been newly tinted in soft, restful colors. New scenery had been provided. Rich carpets were supplied. A beautiful innovation was introduced, that of a ladies' retiring room with lavatory. A gentlemen's smoking room has also been provided.

The ventilating system was in operation. New lighting fixtures have been installed. There were lady ushers. Everything possible has been done by the lessee and manager for the comfort of their patrons.

The moving picture equipment is claimed to be unequalled. They are machines of the latest type equipped with a mercury arc rectifier which changes alternating to direct current and eliminates flickering.

The indirect lighting system is largely used about the house. Potted plants and ferns lent an air of refinement to the theatre.

The performance opened with a five reel picture play entitled "Loyalty" by the Eclectic company, being shown in natural colors. Following this Judge W. A. Fleming spoke to the audience and explained why Governor A. O. Eberhart was unable to attend the opening of the Park theatre. The governor was one of the speakers at the Syttende Mai celebration and having one of the late addresses to deliver at the Twin Cities celebration, it was impossible for him to arrive in Brainerd at the hour designated. Judge Fleming said that a local speaker had been secured to take the governor's place and introduced Attorney C. A. Russell.

Mr. Russell, in facetious mood, said that a number of international questions had presented themselves this Monday evening. It appeared that a Swedish governor had been asked to speak at the Norwegian celebration and that the Brainerd engagement was to be filled by a Scotch-Irishman, and Mr. Russell thereupon made a very good address. An era of prosperity was dawning in Brainerd. The town and its environments were coming into their own. The enthusiasm manifested by citizens generally in the formation of the new Chamber of Commerce was evidence of the new progressive spirit permeating the city at large.

"We should encourage everything tending to the betterment of this community," said Mr. Russell. "Lay aside your prejudices and petty differences and get down to the rock bottom of citizenship and push and pull together. Throw away your hammer and buy a horn and join the band."

"We are here at the opening of this new opera house and attending by our presence our interest in the Park Theatre, remodeled and made a thing of beauty by its new lessee who believes that the New Brainerd is pleased with and will appreciate the spirit of progressiveness as displayed."

"The Colonial Minstrel Maids" gave a performance which drew large measures of applause. Their singing was appreciated. Their costumes were very modish and altogether the show was a very pleasing one. A five piece orchestra discoursed sweet music.

The Park Theatre will run continuously the year around and be open every evening. Mr. Nemec will present high class theatrical attractions, tabloid plays and feature photo plays.

For May 25 there has been booked Miss May Robson in "A Clever Woman." This is a wholesome play packed full of laughs with a tear tucked away for a contrast. It is one of those plays that it does one good to see, light amusement, which nevertheless reaches down to something deeper and more lasting.

B. J. Madden and J. D. Campbell, of Duluth, were in the city and met many old time friends. They were in Cass and Morrison counties looking up lands. Both are large stockholders in the Cuyuna-Mille Lacs mine.

In the city they met J. G. Dawes, former mayor of Pine River, who now makes his headquarters in Brainerd and who is selling agricultural lands and stirring up immigration for Crow Wing county. He has some of the best kind of land for stock raising.

Another friend Messrs. Madden and Campbell met was Thomas H. McIntyre. In short, the Duluth men continued to meet so many friends that they very nearly missed their train for home.

SPEEDWELLS ARE SPEEDY

Play Classy Ball Sunday and Defeat the E. Brainerd Pickets 9 to 0

The Brainerd Speedwells rounded into their old time form yesterday by shutting out the East Brainerd Pickets 9 to 0. This is the second victory for the Speedwells this season.

Last Sunday the Speedwells defeated the N. P. Hotel 27 to 2. Bob Ludwig pitched while Fricker did the receiving.

The batteries in yesterday's game were Butke and Fricker for the Speedwells and Ebinger and Long and Orne for the Pickets.

The Speedwells started the batting machine in the first inning and scored 3 runs off D. Ebinger. The second inning was the same, 3 more scores while the Pickets were held hitless until the sixth inning. D. Ebinger was touched up for 10 safe hits. He struck out 7 men. The Pickets could not master Butke's deliveries and secured only 3 hits. Butke struck out 16 men.

The Speedwell line up yesterday was: L. Dahl, left field; G. Fricker, catcher; A. Thoe, right field; J. Cuddihy, short stop; Fred Stallman, third base; L. Swanson, first base; B. Ludwig, second base, L. Clark, center field, F. Butke, pitcher. Anyone desiring games please notify Fred Stallman.

HOW PTOMAINES MAY BE AVOIDED

"Don'ts" Designed to Reduce the Cases This Summer.

WHERE CARE IS NECESSARY

Particular Caution Should Be Exercised in the Use of Meat and Canned Goods in Warm Weather—Too Much Attention Cannot Be Given to the Refrigerator.

How to avoid ptomaine poisoning during the summer months is told in a bulletin just issued by the New York city health department. It says that the commonest form of meat poisoning, called ptomaine, is due to eating the meat of diseased animals. It is impossible to detect the poisonous bacteria without bacteriological examination, owing to the fact that they do not cause putrefaction. In the greater majority of cases cooking renders this meat harmless, but there are cases on record where the bacteria have survived, causing illness and death.

Summer ptomaine or meat poisoning is the most common form of the disease. Owing to the increased temperature the bacteria increase rapidly, and the only remedy is to exercise particular care in keeping meats. The health department says, "Take proper care of the refrigerator and the refrigerator will take proper care of the meat."

A List of "Don'ts."

Warning is given against badly constructed ice chests. For every household the following "don'ts" are given: Don't keep meat in the refrigerator unless it is properly iced.

Don't omit to clean the refrigerator frequently, using strong hot soda solution.

Don't use meat unless it is absolutely fresh; never attempt to freshen it by washing with salt, soda, etc.

Don't buy chopped meats or sausage unless absolutely sure that it is fresh.

Finally, don't buy from any butcher unless sure that his meats are fresh and handled in a sanitary manner.

Symptoms of ptomaine poisoning from eating bad meats are given as beginning with vomiting, severe abdominal pains, diarrhea, fever and prostration, sometimes resulting in death.

Canned foodstuffs are more universally used in summer than at any time of the year, and especial warning is given against using them unless absolutely sure.

lutely sure that the contents are good. The form of poisoning from bad canned goods is known as "botulism" or "sausage poisoning" and is very deadly, with a mortality rate of 50 per cent. The microbes causing this thrive in the absence of air and multiply rapidly in canned goods, sausages, etc. Symptoms of the disease are partial or total paralysis, double vision, painful swallowing, loss of voice and interference with heart and respiration.

Be Careful of Canned Goods.

With care in buying canned goods there is no danger of this virulent poisoning. It usually happens that the steam sterilization, which is part of the canning process, kills all microbes, but now and then, owing to carelessness or the canning machinery not working properly, a few cans will reach the market containing living microbes. These multiply and form gas that pushes up the top of the can in a convex form.

These cans are known as "blown cans," or "swelled heads." The housewife in buying canned goods should always examine the cans and if there is no sign of convexity may be reasonably sure that the contents are healthy.

It has been contended that manufacturers take "blown cans" and puncture the top to let out the gas. They then solder the small puncture and sell the cans again at a reduced price. This practice, however, is "certainly very limited in New York city," says the health department, as the inspectors always seize and destroy all cans showing any sign of "swelled head."

Freedom from ptomaines can only be obtained by caution in buying and eating meat, fish and canned goods, and the health department asks every housewife to remember that eternal vigilance is the price of health.

The Diving Bell.

The celebrated philosopher Aristotle speaks of a diving bell which was put over the head of the diver, but there is no proof of the use of the bell in ancient times. John Jaesler, who lived in the early part of the sixteenth century, makes the earliest mention of the practical use of the diving bell in Europe. In all probability the first real practical use of the diving bell was in the attempt at rescuing the treasures of the Spanish armada off the English coast, 1590 and on.

Virtue of Self Expression.

If children are allowed to give vent to all that is joyous and happy and spontaneous in their natures they will be infinitely more likely to blossom out into helpful men and women, instead of sad, suppressed, sad faced individuals. Children who are encouraged in self expression through their play instinct will not only make much more normal human beings, but will make better business men, better professional men, better citizens, better men and women generally. They will succeed better and have a nobler influence in the world. Joy and fun are great developers, calling out our richest resources, educating our fuller powers.—Nautilus.

MEAT SUPPLY OF FUTURE ASSURED

Will Depend Upon Domestic Sources, Not Imports.

NO REAL CAUSE FOR ALARM

Report of United States Chamber of Commerce Committee Gets at Crux of the Situation—Present Condition Is Only Temporary—Promising Fields of Cattle Production.

In a report on the problem of the meat supply of the country the committee on statistics and standards of the United States chamber of commerce reaches the conclusion that an impartial and careful survey of the field "fails to disclose any genuine cause for alarm, but rather that excessively high prices and declining supplies are but temporary phases of an economic problem of whose satisfactory solution there can be no reasonable doubt."

The present apprehension, in the opinion of the committee, is based largely upon the study of partial and often superficial statistics and the usual tendency to judge the future by the events of the last few years alone.

"There exists today," says the report, "a widespread, but entirely erroneous, belief that the apparent decreasing meat supply of food with a steadily increasing population is a permanent tendency. That, likewise, it will become more and more accentuated as time goes on, with the natural results of still higher prices of meat and constantly increasing importations."

A Sporadic Condition.

A series of charts is given, based on the figures of the Year Book of the department of agriculture and corrected at the census dates, 1890, 1900 and 1910, by bureau of census statistics. These indicate, according to the committee, "a series of ups and downs rather than a steady tendency to decrease. While it is true that population has increased steadily during this series of years, yet it is equally true that the number of cattle per 100 of population is practically the same now as in 1870, and this, after all, is the crux of the situation." The recent trend, however, as shown by the charts is downward and the exports of beef and mutton products show a general tendency to decrease, while the imports show the opposite.

In discussing the causes of the shortage of cattle and sheep, the first one mentioned is the restriction of the areas for profitable grazing because of cultivation. Then, too, within the past decade unfavorable weather has been a serious factor.

The committee does not believe that much can be expected from imports of beef from Argentina, Australia, Canada, Brazil or Mexico. In all except the last named causes similar to those in this country are operating to decrease the supply in proportion to population. To domestic sources, it is believed, people must look for any permanent relief in the future. In these great promise is found.

Bright Outlook For Home Production.

The Panhandle of Texas is an example of one of the new and important sources of future supply. There is an area of about 25,000 square miles on which are a number of windmills that pump up the water at small cost. These are fast changing the country from vast grazing ranges to a number of small stock farms on which are grown such hardy plants for stock feed as milo maize, Kafir corn, cowpeas and also alfalfa. The comparatively small size of these farms makes it possible to protect the live stock against blizzards. The indications are that a greater number as well as a better quality of cattle will be raised than when the plains were vast ranches. In addition, the large and steadily growing areas under irrigation in many parts of the west and southwest and the dry farming will afford opportunity for stock raising.

In the states farther east, where the rainfall can be more depended on, the raising of stock on the farms is becoming not only a matter of direct profit, but one of the essentials of proper farm management.

But the promise of the greatest new source of supply, in the committee's judgment, comes from the southern states. The only obstacle to the south's becoming the ideal cattle section is the Texas fever tick. This is being overcome.

Hog raising also offers great promise. These animals can well be raised on small farms, and the forces that tend to make cattle raising more difficult render the raising of hogs easier and more profitable. Hog cholera, which was the active factor in reducing the supply of these animals, is now easily controlled.

With sheep it is another matter, and the committee does not think the outlook so encouraging. Much will depend, it says, upon whether it is found profitable to raise sheep and lambs for meat supply, with wool only as a by-product.

Other factors to be considered are the great growth of the poultry industry and the decline per capita in consumption of meat as food. As to the last mentioned, not only has vegetarianism increased, but people generally use more cereals, fruits, vegetables and nuts instead of so much meat.

How Ledgers Got Their Name.

On the authority of the best lexicographers "ledger" is an adaptation of a once common word, "ligger," signifying any large book suited better for lying on a desk than for carrying about. Sometimes this was applied to a large account book, cartulary or the like, frequently a great breviary for use in church, as distinct from a "portas," or small one, carried by a "book bosom priest." "Couche" is another old synonym for "ligger," the foregoer of the now general "ledger."

TAKE a small chew of "Right-Cut"—and see for yourself that a nibble of real tobacco is better than a big wad of the old kind.

Pure, sappy, mellow tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough. "Finest flavor ever," old-time tobacco users say. Different from the old kind. Richer, more satisfying.

And a ready chew. The full fine flavor comes along easy and naturally without grinding. You take less than a quarter your old size chew—and it lasts you longer

SUGGESTS STANDARD CARD

To be Used by Brainerd Business Men Advertising Brainerd and its Resources

In an interview with the Dispatch this morning, W. H. Gemmell, general manager of the Minnesota & International railway company, said: "I have just returned from a ten day's absence in the Twin Cities on rate hearings, and on the north end on an inspection trip, and regret I was not able to be on hand, to do what I could, to aid in the activities of the week devoted to the formation of the new Brainerd Chamber of Commerce. From the articles I have read in your paper, since my return, I note Mr. Irving has told the citizens of Brainerd many things of importance that must be done, if we expect to make this city what it ought to be, and he has stimulated an interest and enthusiasm in cooperative work along the right lines, which will undoubtedly bring the results for which we should all aim. I have long felt that we needed here a strong commercial organization, with an experienced secretary who would devote all his time to placing Brainerd on the map so conspicuously that eventually we would have enterprises seeking an opportunity to locate in our midst, instead of our scouting around to find them. The work of the past week has demonstrated that such an organization has become a fact, and I predict, within a very short time, the full number suggested by Mr. Irving will have pledged themselves to enlist in the fight for the moral, commercial and social upbuilding of Brainerd.

Many of the business men and others, of Brainerd, make frequent trips out of town, far and near. It occurs to me it would be a good idea for all such to procure a standard business card, giving their name and business, and stating in one corner that they are boosting for Brainerd, and on the reverse side, have enumerated briefly what our advantages and opportunities are, requesting all interested to communicate with the secretary of the Brainerd Chamber of Commerce, and then when we travel, distribute them freely, especially among business men where they may do the most good, the preparation of this card could be assigned to the new secretary when he comes. With the capable preliminary and permanent committees assigned to the organization of this Chamber of Commerce, success is assured. From now on there can be no such word as "fail" in our vocabulary. Let us all therefore be continually "Boosters for a Bigger, Better Brainerd."

Dinner Table Language.

English is the sea language and French is the dinner table language, and we cannot understand the dinner menu drawn up in German (as the Kaiser decrees) instead of French. We tried in Smollett's time to translate hors d'oeuvres into "whets," and later on the attempt has been made with "appetizers," which suggest only "cock-tails." "Fat liver paste" has been suggested as an equivalent for "pate de foie gras." But none of these will serve. The dish with its compounds must be disguised by a polite tongue, and there is much difference between the delicate veiling of the French and the dreadful frankness of the German. —Fall Mail Gazette.

NOW OFFER NEW NERVES FOR OLD

Grafting Experiments Upset Accepted Theories.

WONDERFUL POSSIBILITIES.

Discovery Announced by Eminent Glasgow Surgeon Indicates That Useless Limb May Again Be Made Sound—Brain Cell Can Perform Two Separate Functions.

The London Times reports the result of important nerve grafting experiments recently carried out by Professor Robert Kennedy, the well known surgeon of Glasgow, proving that a brain cell may be taught to perform two separate functions.

Each nerve communicates with a particular set of brain cells which control its activities. It was supposed that these cells were of a highly specialized character and able to perform only the function allotted to them by nature.

Experimented on a Dog. Dr. Kennedy made experiments on the foreleg of a dog. He severed all the nerves connecting with the muscles below the joint and then connected all these muscles to the group of nerves controlling flexion or bending.

The dog was for some time unable to direct or co-ordinate its movements. Gradually, however, at about the ninety-third day, this power returned and was completely regained by the one hundred and twenty-third day.

An experiment with all the muscles connected to the extensor or straightening out nerves was then tried. Here recovery of action began at the fifty-ninth and was complete by the seventy-ninth day.

Old Theory Shattered. According to the older conception of nerve activity and control, the dog in the first experiment should have been able to bend but never again to straighten out his foreleg; in the second to straighten out, but never again to bend it. That, on the contrary, full movement was soon regained, upset this theory completely and proved that the brain was capable, if it had the opportunity, of adapting itself within a short period to almost any change of nerve distribution.

The possible applications of the discovery are very wide. For example, the nerves of a withered or useless limb, the function of which has been lost because of some injury to or disease of the brain—for example, by apoplexy—if connected to the nerve trunk leading to a healthy part of that organ, might again receive and convey stimuli. In that case the degenerated and flabby muscles would regain power, and the infirmity would be cured.

POISON IN BIBLE COVERS.

Bible Society Protects Gilbert Islands Gift From Insects.

The American Bible society has just sent a thousand Bibles, printed in the Gilbert Islands language, to Micronesia. The Bibles, which cost the society $1,367, are a free gift to the American board's Micronesian mission. They will be distributed principally from Ocean Island, which is a mile and a half in diameter and a point of call for many ships because of the wealth of its phosphate deposits.

To protect the Bibles from insects the binders worked poison into their covers. The Bibles were soldered up in tin packages of twenty and put in fifty stout wooden boxes for their long journey to Australia and then to Micronesia, which is 5,000 miles southwest of San Francisco.

Mrs. Odell had a caller one afternoon and invited her to remain to dinner. The invitation was accepted, and the hostess said:

"I am so glad you can stay, Mrs. Parker. There is to be a joke on Mr. Odell. He is always criticising my cooking. Today his mother came in, and I persuaded her to make some cakes. Won't it be funny when he finds fault with the cakes and I tell him that his mother made them herself?"

When the cakes were served at dinner that evening Mr. Odell exclaimed: "My dear Maude, you are certainly becoming a perfect cook. These cakes are as fine as my mother makes."—National Monthly.

DEVELOPMENTS OF WEEK ON RANGE

Officials of Iron Mountain Mining Co. Receive Propositions to Take Over Mine

ON ADVANCE ROYALTY BASIS

Wilcox Mine Has Shaft Down 58 Feet
—Barrows Mine is Shipping Steadily

Officials of the Iron Mountain Mining company have announced that they are in receipt of two propositions for the taking over of the Iron Mountain mine on an advance royalty basis. Negotiations have been carried on for the last four months and it is now believed that they will come to some arrangements with some eastern furnace people as the price offered is in excess of what was offered four months ago.

A special meeting of the board of directors was held in Duluth to discuss the offers received and it was decided to notify the eastern parties that they were prepared to deal with them with a few small changes being made and to advise them to come to Duluth with their engineering staff and make arrangements to visit the property to further check it and see what will be necessary to further explore the property.

It is the intention of one of the companies to prosecute the work in the shaft and also strip the property so as to make it one of the heaviest producers of manganiferous ores on the Cuyuna range. At present this property has close to four thousand feet of drilling, the deepest hole being 501 feet and still in ore. There are two shafts on the property. One shaft, six feet by eight feet, is 50 feet in the ore with an overburden of 69 feet. This shaft will be used as an air and timber shaft. The No. 2 shaft is a standard three-compartment mining shaft and is down 117 feet and has penetrated the solid manganese formation for 49 feet. With the installation of the boilers which are now ready at the Ames Boiler Works of Oswego, N. Y., the mine is ready to ship to the lower lake ports. The Soo line has completed a branch line direct to the property. Samples taken from the stockpile show a very high grade of manganiferous ore.

Samples of ore from the shaft recently submitted to the Duluth Testing Laboratory give very gratifying results. In a report received from the laboratory it is stated that the manganese content has been uniformly high. The average of nine samples representing 45 feet of the shaft was 21.49 per cent manganese. The lowest recorded was 15.10 per cent and the highest was 31.50 per cent.

The Cuyuna-Mille Lacs mine near Iron Mountain townsite and the Cuyuna-Duluth mine at Ironton, now subsidiaries of the American Manganese Manufacturing company, will soon commence shipments. The Cuyuna-Mille Lacs mine, it is reported, will put on an increased force some time this month. The stockpile will soon be shipped via Cuyuna Northern and Northern Pacific railways. New machinery has been installed which will be able to take care of the water situation. The Cuyuna-Duluth mine at Ironton has accumulated a stockpile of high grade ore which will soon be shipped. Both mines, it is reported, will also soon hoist from stock and load into cars.

The shaft of the Duluth-Brainerd Iron Co. is down about 140 feet, having been sunk through rock all the way from ledge, which was reached at 77 feet. Bearing timbers at the top of the station are being put in. Drilling will commence at the 150 foot level, as soon as the station and pump room are opened up.

The Wilcox mine of the Canadian-Cuyuna Ore Co. at Woodrow has 48 men at work. The shaft is now down 58 feet and ledge will be reached at 92 feet. Steam has been turned on in the new boiler, thus superseding the temporary arrangements made. The Cuyuna Range Power Co. whose water power dam is situated on the Crow Wing river west of Brainerd, has built a pole line to the mine. The electric pump is on the ground and will be used as an auxiliary to the steam equipment. The Wilcox mine has sold its entire product before a ton of ore has been hoisted and thus faces the future without any misgivings as to the ore market. Eastern Canadian steel interests, it is said, will buy considerable of the ore mined. Situated in section 13, township 45, range 30, six miles east of Brainerd, the mine and town are within Brainerd territory and thus greatly benefit the south range. Supt. McKay is not trying to break any shaft sinking records, but is striving for permanency and a good job. The compartment shaft is of timber, reinforced with concrete poured in back of same.

The Adams mine at Oreland has worked steadily all winter and to date has accumulated a stockpile which will soon be shipped. On the average ore of a high grade has been mined. The Barrows mine of the Virginia Ore Mining Co., a subsidiary of the M. A. Hanna Co., of Cleveland, Ohio, is now shipping 40 cars a day over the Northern Pacific railway. A steam shovel of the Northern Pacific is burrowing into the big stockpile accumulated in the winter months. The Brainerd-Cuyuna mine, in the city limits of Brainerd, and also on the south range, is sinking its second shaft and so far has encountered no trouble in penetrating the quicksand area revealed in the first shaft. Forty foot steel piling driven through this section has helped Capt. John O. Martin solve many of the obstacles. The Kennedy mine of the Rogers, Brown Ore Co., at Cuyuna, is hoisting from shaft to cars, as is also the Armour No. 2 mine of the same company at Crosby and Ironton. President Chester D. Tripp of Chicago, has been on the range this week inspecting the work done. He has a beautiful summer home on Serpent lake in Crosby and with his family spends the summers there. It is reported, that the Kennedy mine will soon put on a steam shovel and that shipping from the stockpile will commence shortly.

None of the pit mines has shipped to date. All are preparing for early shipping. In Crosby the Thompson mine of the Inland Steel company has a shovel at work preparing the pit for shipments which, it is expected, will be made within four or six weeks at the utmost. The Rowe pit mine of the Pittsburgh Steel Ore Co., at Riverton has a shovel at work. The hydraulic plant operated by electric pumps will soon start up and continue removing the shallow overburden. The Cuyuna Range Power company is putting in a new station at Riverton. The Rowe mine, it is said, will use 900 horsepower in their hydraulic work, which to date has been the cheapest method ever tried out on the Cuyuna range for removing overburden. Very few boulders are encountered, the soil generally being of a sandy nature. About 125 men are reported to be working at the Rowe pit mine. Another engine will be put on next Sunday. The Pennington pit mine west of Ironton has a steam shovel working in the pit. A power house is being built on the bank of the pit.

The Seafeld Exploration company of Ironton, has drills working for the Cuyuna-Sultana company in section 3, township 46, range 29, and in section 20, township 47, range 28 for the Iron Valley Mining company. The Potts Exploration company is drilling north of Big Rabbit lake, where four drills are wrestling secrets from the earth, and another drill is exploring the country north of Riverton. The Longyear Exploration company, P. W. Donovan of Brainerd being its range superintendent, is putting down its second hole at the county poor farm where 52 per cent ore was struck at 245 feet depth. The first hole struck no ore, and may have been just outside the ore body which the second hole is revealing. As it is, Crow Wing county is excited about the mineral wealth it owns and what was formerly the "Poor Farm" for housing paupers may turn out to be a rich iron mine sufficient to wipe out the county's indebtedness and yield an annual income which will reduce taxes to nominal figures. The city of Brainerd has mineral lands bequeathed to it by the late Judge G. W. Holland and if ore is also shown up there and a mine developed, then Brainerd and Crow Wing county will be the only city and county in the United States enjoying the fortunate distinction of owning mines.

Joe Raymond, of Deerwood who owns much realty in and near Crosby, has given an option to explore 80 acres near Crosby to J. W. Forsberg, of Michigan. Osterberg & Johnson have two drills working in section 22, township 47, range 29. Osterberg Brothers, a Tower drilling firm, is also drilling for the Crow Wing Mining company on their lands in the southeast quarter of section 6, township 46, range 29, where a fair quality of ore has been uncovered by the two drills. The president of the Crow Wing Mining company is J. C. Campbell of Cloquet, vice president John Long, treasurer C. L. Dixon, secretary F. D. Vibert. The latter is a candidate for state senator from Aitkin and Carlton counties in what is the 54th district. Mr. Vibert is heavily interested on the Cuyuna iron range and is well spoken of by the many range people who know him.

William Bamberg has moved a drill on section 34, township 47, range 29. The Crosby Exploration company has two drills in the south half of the northeast quarter of section 3, township 46, range 29 and is also drilling in section 18, township 46, range 29, near Riverton. Daniel Waite was in Crosby and on the north range this week. C. J. O'Connell of Crosby, the pioneer assayer of the range, is putting in a branch laboratory at Riverton.

J. D. Campbell and B. J. Madden, of Duluth, interested in the Cuyuna-Mille Lacs mine, were at Brainerd this week. Both have been in Cass and Morrison counties looking up land. At Brainerd they met their old friend, J. G. Dawes, former mayor of Pine River.

McCullough & Cheney, railway contractors of Minneapolis, have their bridge fill job in Brainerd well under way. They completed grading the Cuyuna Northern railway extension from the Cuyuna-Mille Lacs mine to the Duluth-Brainerd mine and then moved their equipment of steam shovel, two dinky locomotives, 36 dump cars and other machinery and their crew to Brainerd. The steam shovel is cutting into the hill of the Holland land given to the city and the dirt excavated is being used for the bridge fill at the ravine in Northeast Brainerd. A maximum of 2,000 yards a day can be handled.
